Tornado Strikes Several Localities In Midwest Area

Missouri, Iowa And Arkansas Communities Are Scene Of Storm Disaster

AT LEAST TWENTY REPORTED DEAD (BULLETIN)

WORTH, Mo., April 30.—(INS)—Survivors and rescue workers began a new rubble of tornado-wrecked Worth where 13 persons were known to have perished.

Missouri highway patrol officers said they feared more bodies would be found in the debris of the little town of 233 population.

Worth was virtually wrecked yesterday afternoon by a tornado that leap-frogged from Northwest Missouri into Iowa.

Sixteen persons were reported seriously injured in Worth. Approximately 40 others were hospitalized. The highway patrol estimated that 100 persons were hurt.

Iowa Communities Hit
The small communities of Lineville and Clio were hit in Iowa. No one was reported injured in the two villages.

The 13 known dead were in Worth. No one was reported injured in the two Iowa towns. Lineville and Clio are 35 and 45 miles northwest of Worth, respectively.

Buildings in Worth were ripped apart and the entire business district leveled.

In Arkansas

There is a beautiful sight at the south-west corner of Norwood and Delaware avenues, where colorful spring flowers including jonquils and various-hued hyacinths are in bloom.

The quiet atmosphere of North Mercer street, just above Falls street, was disturbed on Tuesday evening when the horn of a parked car became stuck and blew for almost an hour before the battery of the car became dead. Efforts to find the owner of the parked coupe were futile.

From East Clayton street to East Cherry street, city employees have put a white line in the center of Cedar street. Crossing lines over Cedar street, have also been made on East Madison avenue. This is in the location of Mahoning School, and is believed will help in the safety of the pupils going to and from school.

State highway employees in the county are busy engaged in repairing rough places in the highways and streets of the city and county. A number of holes have developed, and in the event of good weather the work should be completed in the next ten days, Alfred Martin, superintendent of the county department, reported.

Tuesday afternoon we noticed that the hedge had been nicely trimmed around the honor roll, corner of West Madison and Liberty street, and the flower bed in front of the honor roll made ready for planting. This was taken care of by the Seventh Ward Civic club.

White center traffic lines are to be painted in Highland avenue, East Washington street and Wilmington avenue, according to C. F. Suber, in charge of traffic for the police department. At present city painters are putting down lines for crosswalks.

Marshall Takes Over Foreign Policy Reins

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Secretary of State George C. Marshall took the reins of foreign policy directly in his own hands today as he dropped the burden of direct negotiating details which had been forced on him by the Moscow conference.

As a result developments were expected swiftly in carrying out matters of foreign policy which had hinged on high level decisions but which have been dormant during Marshall's seven weeks absence in Russia.

Immediate Problem
Two immediate problems with which he must deal today have been revealed. They are:

1. Determination of the attitude the United States will take in dealing with the Palestine problem before the United Nations.

2. Settlement of Russia's eleven billion one hundred million dollar lend-lease account.

Russian lend-lease talks, arranged while Marshall was in Moscow, were to start at 1 p. m. (EST).

The Palestine problem has been complicated by Arab demands that the entire question be debated at the current special meeting of the General Assembly. Earlier it had been planned, by the United States and Great Britain, to try to confine discussion to a proposal to set up a special U. N. commission to study the Zionist problem.

The Arab demand was regarded as putting the U. S. on a spot by forcing this country to take a firm stand for the formation of a Palestine state—or against it.

At impressive services in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, Tuesday evening, Rev. Robert Ferguson Galbreath, D.D., L.L.D., was installed as pastor of the church. Both the service and the reception for Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath following were largely attended by members of the congregation, friends, a number of visitors from other churches of the city.

Dr. Wishart Presides
Rev. William Wishart, D.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Sharon, presided over the services to install as pastor of the First Presbyterian church a clergyman and educator of note, who was for 14 years president of Westminster college from 1932 until August 1946. Since then he has served the church as interim pastor. Dr. Galbreath went to Westminster college from the pastorate of Bellevue Presbyterian church.

For the installation sermon Dr. Wishart took his text from II Corinthians 12:10. "For when I am weak, then am I strong."

Charges To Pastor And People
Rev. John Orr, Ph.D., professor of Bible at Westminster college and at present acting dean of the college, delivered the charge to the pastor and Rev. Murray C. Reiter, D.D., pastor emeritus of Bethel Presbyterian congregation, Pittsburgh, and a longtime friend of Dr. Galbreath.

At the same time, Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), showed signs of softening toward such a move. Taft said he would be willing to modify the amendment which would permit employers to obtain injunctions against secondary boycotts and jurisdictional strikes.

A compromise was being proposed that would let district attorneys take such injunctions in behalf of employers to save the delay of awaiting action in Washington.

Moves Toward Test
Meanwhile, the Senate moved toward somewhat of a test this afternoon (EST). The chamber agreed to vote on the motion of Sen. Morse (R-Ore.), to split the omnibus measure into four separate bills.

Minority whip Wherry (R) Nebr., said the vote would be meaningless as a test on the amendments.

Johnstown Police Have New Worry

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 30.—(INS)—Police of Johnstown today had a new worry on their hands.

A court opinion has held the city's "catch-all" ordinance invalid.

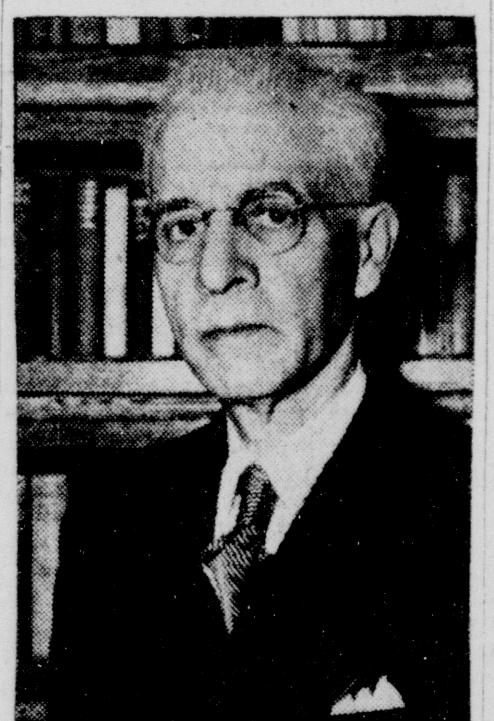

The police had been using it primarily in arrests and convictions of persons on disorderly conduct charges. But the opinion, by three judges held only the legislature and not third class cities, has the right to legislate against disorderly conduct.

Now they'll have to hang charges of intoxication, breach of the peace, or other tags on those they pick up in barroom brawls, street fights, etc., or else take the prisoner into a Commonwealth court.

It began in the Christiansborg Palace church in Copenhagen where 100 thousand grieving subjects had passed before the bier to pay their last homage to the old king.

Standing by the casket during the church service were King Frederick IX, the 48-year-old Danish naval veteran who succeeded his father to the throne, and King Haakon VII of Norway, the dead monarch's brother.

Near them were Crown Prince Olav of Norway, Prince George of Greece, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden—gathered of Queen Ingrid of Denmark—and Princes Bertil and Carl of Sweden.

President Truman's personal representative, Ambassador Joseph P. Kamp, stood among the envoys and royalty of foreign states.

Phone Employees Here Still Out

Plant Department Employees Here Continue To Respect Picket Lines

Although an agreement was reached between the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania and the Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania, with which Local 58, comprising local plant department employees is affiliated, ending their strike, local plant department employees are still not working, it was found today.

In the agreement which was reached between the company and the union, according to a spokesman for Local 58, the Pennsylvania Telephone Workers, the right had been reserved to respect picket lines wherever they were established by the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Picketing was still being continued by the long lines men wherever they have an office or substation, as is the case locally, resulting in the local union continuing to respect the pickets.

Plant department employees were said to be back at work in all the surrounding cities, where no picketing was taking place, and service there was back to normal today.

President Of Mexico Gets Fine Welcome

Ovation Accorded On Arrival At Washington—Guest At White House Dinner

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Intense, darkly handsome President Miguel Aleman of Mexico today began a round of official duties with the cheers of almost a million people ringing in his ears.

Upon his arrival in the nation's capital the Mexican chief executive had received one of the most enthusiastic ovations ever to be accorded a visiting chief of state from a crowd estimated at over 750,000 persons.

The youthful, 43-year-old Mexican president was scheduled to visit the tomb of the unknown soldier today and to leave a wreath as token of his respect for the warrior who shall remain forever anonymous.

Aleman proceeded to the business of the day after a White House dinner marked by manifestations of affection between the presidents of the sister American republics and by what President Truman characterized as a "unique" feature in the complete abandonment of the official set of rules known as protocol.

President Truman, in his introductory remarks, said:

Stassen Confers On Foreign Policy Issues

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Harold E. Stassen, guardian of a transcript of his Moscow conference with Premier Stalin, called on Republican Congressional leaders today in a careful program of consultation before speaking out on the ticklish foreign policy situation.

The former Minnesota governor, an avowed Presidential candidate, began his series of party contacts in a two-hour session with Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., Senate Foreign Relations chairman and GOP foreign policy leader. He returned from Europe Sunday.

Stassen, replying to a question suggesting that his consultation in the interest of bi-partisan foreign policy was a contrast with that of Henry A. Wallace, made it clear that his present course was his own—and not new. He said:

"The policy I am following is the policy I followed more than two years ago and is not in contrast with anyone else's policy."

To political observers, however, the contrast was there. Both Wallace and Stassen are "outside shots" in the Democratic and Republican (Continued on Page Two)

World Peace Depends Upon Mutual Trust

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—President Truman today told Soviet Russia in unequivocal terms that world peace depends upon friendship and mutual trust among nations.

The American chief executive voiced his sentiments on the present tense state of international nerves during a state dinner at the White House honoring President Miguel Aleman the visiting Mexican chief of state.

It was Mr. Truman's first official allusion to the abortive four-power Moscow peace conference on which Secretary of State George Marshall reported to the American people in gloomy terms Monday evening.

President Truman cited the friendly relations between the United States, Mexico, Canada, and the other American republics as an example of how nations can live together peacefully.

Settlement Of Two Of Strikes Is Announced

New York City Agreement Reached—Bell Maintenance Strike In Pennsylvania Ends

MAY SET PATTERN FOR OTHER AREAS

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—Two important "local" agreements in the telephone dispute today provide powerful impetus for an all out government drive to obtain settlement of the 24-day-old national communications strike.

Peace pacts announced between Bell companies and independent unions in New York and Philadelphia accorded a possible pattern for ending the walkout by 39 striking affiliates of the National Federation of Telephone Workers throughout the nation.

The New York and Philadelphia unions are not affiliated with the NFWT but they have participated in the wage fight directed by that organization against the vast AT&T system.

Bell Maintenance Workers
The Philadelphia agreement, calling for wage increases of $3-$4 a week for 6,000 Bell maintenance workers in Pennsylvania, conformed to previous predictions of Washington officials that the national strike ultimately would be ended with a wage boost of between $3 and $6 a week.

The Pennsylvania settlement provided for a $3 increase to workers earning up to $50 a week and a $4 a week increase for workers earning over that figure.

Announcement of these two important agreements was expected to furnish labor department conciliators with the key to unlock the national bargaining stalemate.

Looms As Pattern
The pact looms as a pattern for compromise. NFWT's demands against the various Bell companies in more than a score of states.

Second Deputy Wounded By Two Young Bandits In Midnight Encounter

RENO, Nev., April 30.—(INS)—A Nevada deputy sheriff was shot and killed and another deputy was seriously wounded shortly before midnight by two young bandits at the Nevada-California border.

The slain officer was Deputy Sheriff Earl Griffith, 45, of Washoe county where Reno is situated.

Badly wounded was Deputy Sheriff Tom Lambert, 42, also of Washoe county.

The two bandits, each about 20 years old, fled on foot after the shooting and a hastily organized posse of 50 men was scouring the area in search of the pair early today.

Earlier last night the two youths staged a robbery in the mountain town of Susanville, Calif., and made a getaway in a red automobile in the direction of Reno, 72 miles away.

Deputies Griffith and Lambert intercepted the car 23 miles northwest of Reno. They were searching the bandit pair when one of the youths whipped out a revolver and opened fire.

Griffith was killed instantly and Lambert fell wounded.

Continue Search For Missing Plane With 15 Aboard

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 30.—(INS)—Canadian authorities hoped today that wreckage on two island peaks near Vancouver may provide clues to the disappearance of a Trans-Canada airliner with 15 people aboard.

Search planes of the Royal Canadian Air Force saw the objects on Mount Moriarit and Mount Tuam. The former is on Vancouver Island west of Nanaimo Bay and north of Nanaimo. Mount Tuam is on Salt Spring Island, 25 miles from Moriarit.

The bright object which may be part of the plane was seen about 3,500 feet above the sea on Mount Moriarit. Some residents at Nanaimo said they were awakened by a thunderous roar in the night.

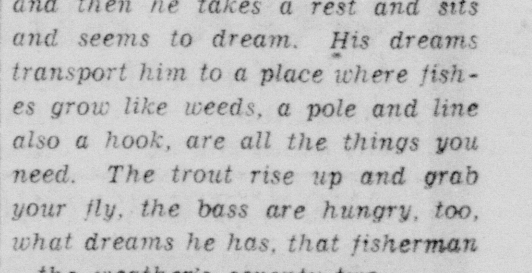

BOULDER DAM IS NOW HOOVER DAM

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—President Truman today signed the bill restoring the name Hoover Dam to the mammoth Nevada reservoir known for more than a decade as Boulder Dam.

Originally named for former President Herbert Hoover, the change in nomenclature was ordered by ex-Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who held that no living persons should be so honored.

Homemakers Of County Convene

Interesting Meeting Of Women From Rural District Held In Epworth Church

GOOD SPEAKERS FEATURE SESSIONS

Lawrence County Homemakers composed of women from the rural sections of the county, had their annual spring meeting in the Epworth Methodist church, Tuesday, with a large number present for the morning and afternoon sessions. Following registration at 10:30 o'clock and a period of devotionals, greetings were extended by Mrs. C. E. Campbell, of Mahoning township, who presided as chairman. Roll call was taken by Mrs. Seth Neely, of Plaingrove township, secretary.

Hear Food Specialist
Miss Sara Warren, assistant nutrition specialist of Penn State College, spoke on food fads and fallacies, telling how many of these myths about eating certain foods originated. Her talk was most interesting.

Mrs. G. M. Parks gave a humorous talk on "Husband and Other Troubles." At the afternoon session, following luncheon served by the ladies of the church, projects and exhibits were discussed by Mrs. Mary Burns, of Plaingrove; Mrs. Harry Kretzer, of Mahoning township; Mrs. Howard Aiken, of Perry township; Mrs. Andrew Temple, of Hickory township; Mrs. Helen Boak, of Scott township; and Mrs. Benjamin Warner, of Plaingrove. Spring and winter floral arrangements, how to pack the school lunch, and refashioning various types of furniture, were included in the projects and exhibits, which were discussed.

Judge Braham Talks
Judge W. Walter Braham discussed legal matters which affect the home, such as wills, mortgages, deeds, adoptions, and other matters of interest, which was followed by a question period and which proved most enlightening.

Miss Lora Pinder, assistant director of extension service, told of the extension work in general throughout the state. She was followed by Mrs. G. M. Park and Mrs. Paul Adams, in a sketch entitled, "She Didn't Feel Well."

The meeting was adjourned with remarks by Miss Emmeline Mehlman, new home economics extension worker.

Group singing during the day was led by Mrs. Wayne Walker, of Big Beaver township, with Mrs. Glenn Patterson, of Hickory township at the piano. Mrs. Garth Kennedy, of Slippery Rock township, favored with accordion numbers during the luncheon hour.

Mahogany was chosen during the war for planes and fast boats like the famous PTs, largely because of its unusual resistance to insects and organisms of decay, which were important factors for a wood to be used in water and tropics. These characteristics also make mahogany an ideal cabinet wood.

STASSEN CONFERS ON FOREIGN POLICY ISSUES

Presidential handicaps. Stassen ranks second only to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in some polls but is regarded by GOP leaders as having a chance in 1948 only if the Republican convention becomes deadlocked. Unlike Stassen, Wallace has gone out on his own with repeated blasts against President Truman's foreign policy.

Stassen reached Washington Tuesday afternoon. He met with Vandenberg at once and planned to see House Speaker Martin (R) Mass, Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy chief, and other party leaders continuing today.

The young Republican, who served with Vandenberg as a delegate to the United Nations Charter Conference at San Francisco, told reporters he will make public the transcript of his meeting with Marshall Stalin in about two days. Before leaving Washington within the next few days he will hold a new conference to give his detailed impressions of conditions abroad.

Vandenberg said he and his potential 1948 rival "canvassed the general factors involved in American foreign policy for the purpose of mutual information." Stassen called the discussion "very constructive" and regarded it as his "most important" such meeting.

Galbreath, charged the people to "Be proud of your pastor." "Be patient with him," and "Pray for him."

"I would congratulate you," Rev. Reiter said, "that you have brought him back where he belongs. He will undertake to teach you to put first things first." And in his charge, Rev. Reiter stressed the need for patience, kindness, and forbearance in this day when there is such tremendous need of Christian leadership.

Thome of Dr. Orr's charge was to "Be wise" in dividing time and energies in functions of the pastorate.

Son Shares Program
Also taking part in the service was Dr. Galbreath's youngest son, Rev. John H. Galbreath, recently installed as pastor of the newly established Westminster Presbyterian congregation of Pittsburgh Presbyterian, Rev. William S. Blair, pastor of Sharpville Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Following the service at the front of the church Dr. and Mrs. Galbreath with their family and representatives of the trustees and elders of the church formed a receiving line to greet those present. Large bouquets of white snapdragons and rose pink carnations decorated the altar for the occasion.

Tea Is Served

During the evening presidents of the missionary societies of the church and trustees of the tea table committees of the various societies aided.

Has Varied Career

businesses, acts as a curb on industrial expansion, and thus prevents increases in the national income." Fred R. Fairchild, Yale University economist, said the present "load of taxation cannot continue without serious effects upon our economy."

Budget Too High
The three speakers said that President Truman's $7.5 billion dollar budget for the next fiscal year is too high, and urged cuts in federal spending.

They spoke at the convention after the chamber unanimously approved a resolution calling for all possible price reductions in line with the President's drive for lower prices.

The resolution, which followed a direct Presidential appeal for price cuts, declared that "more goods for more people at lower prices is the American formula for prosperity."

All Must Cut
In approving the resolution, however, the chamber emphasized that business alone cannot cut prices. It called for government, business, labor and agriculture to cooperate in slashing costs.

The businessman attacked the problem of how to counteract depressions today after hearing Henry Ford II call upon them to show "leadership in tackling the economic problems of our times."

Ford declared that management has the "key responsibility" in solving economic problems because the public believes that "American business and industry can find answers to problems like depressions and unstable employment."

The youthful president of the Ford Motor Company said that business leaders must help achieve "a steadily advancing standard of living in this country" by "adding to the capital of mankind by increased production and distribution."

Once or Twice In a Lifetime . . .

The responsibility of making funeral arrangements falls upon most persons only once or twice and usually these occasions are several years apart.

With so little experience few people can expect to be expert in judging values. Then, too, firms as well as customs change.

That is why we advocate that some member of every family should investigate and know about funeral service as it exists in New Castle today.

Mr. And Mrs. W. M. Bender Have Golden Wedding Event Thursday

MR. AND MRS. W. M. BENDER

A memorable day was written in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bender, R. D. 4, Harlansburg road, Tuesday, when their seven children with their families and a host of friends helped them live again by-gone days as they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The never-to-be-forgotten day began early in the morning at the Bender home as the family gathered in for family worship around the table, with Mr. Bender taking down the old family Bible and conducting the time of worship.

Following lunch at home, the family came to the Coral room of the Castleton, where open house was observed from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Bender entered the reception room to the strains of the wedding march. For this outstanding event in her life, Mrs. Bender was attired in a flowing gown of white nylon jersey trimmed with gold sequins.

The only guest present at the anniversary who was at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Bender, in Toledo, Ohio, April 29, 1897, was Mrs. E. H. Renischler of Marion, Ohio, a sister of Mr. Bender.

The Coral room of the hotel was fittingly decorated for the occasion, with the honored couple sitting amidst a setting of palms and ferns as they greeted their many, many friends who came far and wide to be present on the event. On the table stood a large three tiered wedding cake carrying the traditional bride and groom and standing along side of it was the original wedding picture of the Benders and a picture as they looked at the Golden Anniversary.

During the afternoon and evening, transcriptions were made of the celebration and later rerun, much to the delight of the guests. At the dinner hour at 5:30 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Bender were hosts in the Castleton ball room to their family and a number of close friends.

Grandchildren of the couple, served refreshments to the many guests and friends, who came in and out throughout the day. Eleanor and Carl Jr. Bender greeted the friends at the door, while Lois, Loren and Edith Bender, Dorothy and Carolyn Spang served.

At the close of the "open house" celebration in the evening, the family and friends gathered around the piano for a time of testimony, during which Rev. James Menzie, pastor of the First Pentecostal church, of which church Mr. Bender is senior elder, gave fitting remarks as to the high esteem the couple are held in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bender are the parents of seven children, although widely scattered, were all able to be present Tuesday. The family includes: Miss Ruth Bender, at home; Rev. Gordon Bender of Lockport, N. Y.; Carl Bender, of this city; Rev. Ralph Bender, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Esther Meier of Neptune, N. J.; Walter Bender of this city and Mrs. Clara Spang, of Erie. The families of the children, including the 13 grandchildren were all able to be present.

In 1899, shortly after coming to New Castle, Mr. Bender entered the construction business. He became a

Washington Calling

Marshall's Report Receives Approval

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Secretary of State George C. Marshall's report on the Moscow conference is not likely to become a party issue. Most members of Congress will give their approval with varying degrees of enthusiasm or reluctance.

That was apparent after the secretary's Sunday evening session with congressional leaders at the White House. Both Republicans and Democrats came away from that session with the sober realization that Marshall had gone as far as he could go at Moscow without compromising our basic interest in securing a decent peace between free and independent nations.

Criticism Will Continue

From the extreme left and the extreme right, the criticism will continue. These same extremes—Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho on the one hand and Sen. Albert W. Hawkes of New Jersey on the other—contributed the chief opposition to the program for aiding Greece and Turkey.

But the important fact is that the great majority in Congress is behind the present policy. And this means that the great majority of the American people will be found more or less in accord with the firm line that Secretary Marshall has taken.

It does not, of course, mean that a limited foreign policy will inevitably bring agreement on all phases of that policy. The truth is that the term bipartisan has been greatly overworked in this connection. If we can avoid partisan quarrels over the basic line to be taken, that is probably all that can be expected under our system of divided powers.

Resignation Unfortunate

Our government provides no machinery for continuing consultation between party leaders in Congress and the men who make policy in the State Department. That is dependent to a large degree on personalities. Under-Secretary Dean Acheson has been particularly successful in dealing with Congress, which makes his imminent resignation the more unfortunate.

Perhaps a permanent undersecretary in the tradition of the British foreign office would help. Such a non-political official would give continuity to policy when a new

LIME, TEETH & BONES

Lime or calcium is a mineral which the body needs in making teeth and bone. It has other uses in the body too.

Although there is much limestone used in this vicinity, many people do not get enough of it in their food.

Milk is a very valuable provider of calcium. It contains it in a form which can easily be made use of by the body.

If egg shells could be powdered so that they could be utilized in our food, it would be a good way to get calcium.

Perhaps Mary Jane will not like the idea of eating egg shells. The Customs and habits tell us what to do and we do it. We throw away many valuable articles of food because it is customary to do so.

Wouldn't it seem funny if mother would grind egg shells into a fine powder and bake them in cookies? Bill would not know the difference and it might be good for his teeth.

They Say

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Marshall: "The patient (Europe) is sinking while the doctors deliberate."

WASHINGTON—Henry A. Wallace, former vice president of the United States: "I'm not a person to take notice of criticism. I've got a very thick hide and it bounces off."

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y.—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil, President of U. N. Special Assembly on Palestine: "Time has brought forth an hour of decision for our conscience. It is within our choice to make the United Nations the balance of justice, security and peace or to allow, through our lack of wisdom, for it to be transformed into one more sword to be blindly wielded by force and instinct."

NEW YORK—Harold E. Stassen, Republican Presidential aspirant returns from a tour of Europe: "I am optimistic that we can win peace for a generation at least in the world, if America remains strong and follows wise and humanitarian policies for the peoples of all other nations of the globe."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ANXIOUS PARENTS CREATE PROBLEMS

There's a vast deal of needless sorrow over bedwetting. Usually bedwetting is psychological. Usually every case ought to be checked by the physician.

When should a child sleep dry all night? Nobody knows. Some infants will be dry all through the night as early as the age of two or three, without any effort at training by the parents. Some other children may awaken wet long after entering school, in spite of continuous efforts to "cure" them. An occasional adolescent still has "trouble," even though the doctor can find no physical cause.

Parents Are Concerned

Most parents are concerned about bedwetting in the child too young. Most children would gradually learn to sleep dry if nobody bothered about whether they kept dry or not, especially if the bed were armored with a rubber sheet. The next best procedure is for the parent, when the child occasionally sleeps dry all night to celebrate his successes and ignore his failures.

As for personality harm to the bed-wetting child there can be none till the parents thrust such problems on the child. Let us realize that hundreds of respectable and influential adults were bed-wetters till they had nearly grown up. It's the emotions of the mother of the bed-wetting child and the emotions she stirs up in him through shame, rebuke, and punishment, which do most to prolong bed-wetting. And the older the bed-wetter the more violent these emotions of

HOW TO PLEASE 'EM

The women long for pretty things. For bracelets, necklaces and rings. And bonnets new. But men their happiest smiles will wear.

If they can get a beefsteak rare or Irish stew.

The women find their happiness in various articles of dress. From stylish shops. But men are different, as a group. Best pleased are they with onion soup or thick lamb chops.

Oh, men, lest love may fade away. Supply your wives with trinkets gay. And fashion's suits. Oh, women, if their love you'd hold. Remember what your mother told: "Just feed the brutes."

From Me To You

By MESEALL

It's not really very convenient when some people have a watch that reads one time . . . and the next door neighbor has a watch that reads another time. Oh, a few minutes one way or another is nothing much to bother with but when the minutes pile up the difference into one hour . . . then it is very confusing.

There is some talk around town that the time situation at present is very confusing . . . we can agree . . . it seems that things start and get over just when some people are getting there . . . Others can't rightly say when to start any place . . . and some even complain that they start and when they get there it is still not time for them to start.

We are not in any way advocating a time . . . it still stands that we come to work not by the sun . . . but by the clock . . . in winter we came to work when it was dark and went home when it was dark . . . now we have a little daylight at both ends of the day.

We can't correctly see what time on the clock . . . the other side of the picture has to do with our farmer friends. They work according to the sun and very seldom look at the clock unless they are going some place to make a social call. In winter, friends from the country often come to town for dinner in the evening . . . they stop and do the chores early . . . often wasting daylight hours when there are not many hours . . . and they do the same during the warmer months.

Various organizations in town are voting among themselves . . . and the percentage against coordinating all watches by dropping one hour is very small . . . in fact from the organizations we have heard from . . . the percentage is far less than one percent.

But it's not in our lap to order or deny a time change . . . our city fathers have that privilege . . . merely, at this point, pass along some talk that has been heard over the lunch counter.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

One of my Monday diversions is to read the reports on sermons preached in various churches the day before.

And when I read them I am reminded of a newspaper item I read a couple of weeks ago which I clipped for comment at an appropriate time.

According to that item, the police were called to a Detroit church. When they entered they found two preachers preaching simultaneously, vigorously and voluminously from the same pulpit. The organist was pumping away at his organ and the congregation was shouting amen and hallelujahs without being able to understand what either of the preachers said.

The regular pastor of the church told the police that the second preacher was the leader of a dissenting faction within the membership and that he hoped things would be straightened out soon.

The police left and the double meeting went on.

There are too many different doctrines and prescriptions for happiness and salvation being preached by dissenting factions, not necessarily in the same church, but in religion in general.

Religion should be unity and harmony, not dissension and strife.

Preachers should be constructive and forbearing rather than censorious and condemning. There is enough of that in everyday life. The church should give us hope and understanding.

Here is what a minister told his congregation from the Sunday pulpit:

"Man has shrunken in stature until he has become a mechanical robot, a machine tender, without responsibility to his own intrinsically human personality and without knowledge of the divine possibilities inherent in the toil of his hands and his heart."

That minister doesn't know what he is talking about, and, by having his sermon reprinted in a newspaper read by many thousands, does untold harm.

Let him look around in his own community. Let him see what is being done by his "robot" parishioners for the Red Cross, the Community Chest, the Boy Scouts and the hundred and one charitable drives that come along almost every day.

Let him go into the homes of his flock and see the love and the care being given to children by their parents, and the kindness and devotion permeating those homes.

Let him begin to realize that man is a "mechanical robot and a machine tender" only so that he may have the time and the leisure and the means to be a human.

Let him understand that only very few people earn money for the sake of the money, but only so that they may be self-supporting and useful citizens of their communities and their country.

I accuse this minister of being completely ignorant of human nature. I receive thousands of letters from my readers, many of whom open their hearts out to me.

And the more I get to know of human beings, the more I see the "divine possibilities" in them.

CHURCH CEREMONY AFTER CIVIL CEREMONY

"My husband is now on his way home from the army. A year ago, we were hurriedly married before he went overseas. Now we would like to be married in my church. Since I am only twenty years old, I should like to be married in a bridal gown and veil and have a reception—both of which I missed through lack of time to make preparations. Would this plan be proper? If not, what do you suggest?"

Answer: Every girl has the privilege of wearing a white wedding dress and veil once in her life—the first time she marries. And the first time only!

Since you are already a matron even though you are only twenty, you must not wear this symbol of maidenhood. More appropriate and very attractive would be a pastel, long afternoon dress with a matching hat draped with a shoulder-length veil—the kind of ensemble worn by bridesmaids at a formal wedding. This you may wear at your church ceremony and reception following.

You may, if you prefer, wear a white dress but it must not be a formal bridal gown. It must not have a train and you must not wear even a finger-tip bridal veil. You may correctly have only two attendants—a maid-of-honor and a best man. If the church is large, you may have two ushers, but no bridesmaids in an informal wedding. If you wear a long afternoon dress, the men of the wedding party must wear cutaway coats and striped trousers (formal daytime clothes.)

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

Tribute To Three Political Bosses

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Not often is it possible to say anything pleasant about the political bosses of the big city machines. Usually they are sordid, not to say sinister, fellows to whom it would be pretty difficult to be unjust. The idea that the nation as a whole owes them a real debt of gratitude appears almost too ridiculous to present seriously.

NEVERTHELESS, that happens to be the fact, and nothing could possibly make it clearer than the recent performance of that whirling dervish of public affairs—Mr. Henry Wallace—now returned from Europe, where he has done his gaudy best to scuttle the foreign policy of his own country while it is engaged in extremely vital negotiations. For the incontrovertible truth is that, but for these bosses Mr. Wallace today would be President of the United States.

LET those who think we should not be grateful to these bad bosses of Chicago, Jersey City and New York, who frightened the late Mr. Roosevelt away from renominating Mr. Wallace as his running mate in 1944, consider that trenchant fact. Let them reflect upon Mr. Wallace's present views as expressed in his British speeches. Let them reflect, too, upon his opposition to the American plan for control of atomic energy as presented by the Baruch committee to the Security Council of the United Nations. Let them consider also the kind of Secretary of State we now would have if Mr. Wallace were President and what there would be anywhere, including here, to stop the spread of communism in the world.

NEVER mind about their motives. No matter that they were undoubtedly animated by their inherent and incurable political selfishness. No matter that they did not know from what they were saving the country and had no notion they were saving it at all. Fully considering all these things, the fact remains that few men in our history have rendered better service to the nation than that trio of more or less unsavory city bosses who swung Mr. Roosevelt away from Mr. Wallace in the 1944 Democratic convention and induced him to send word down the line for another candidate.

ONE of these bosses was Mr. Eddie Kelly, then mayor of Chicago, and in that day a very dangerous man politically indeed. The second was that ruthless, battle-scarred and widely denounced Mayor of Jersey City, Mr. Frank Hague. The third was Mr. Roosevelt's close friend, Mr. Eddie Flynn, the highly cultured boss of the Bronx. It was the emphatically expressed view of these gentlemen that Mr. Wallace's renomination would weaken the ticket very greatly. He might, they urged, cost it a million votes in the big cities. He might cause its defeat. He ought not to be named.

WIDELY published at the time, these things have rather faded from the general memory now. Nevertheless, they caused Mr. Roosevelt to ditch his first choice—Mr. Wallace—and scour the field for a new running mate, eventually settling on the then Senator Truman. It is not likely that, with the war on, these bosses thought Mr. Wallace could really drag Mr. Roosevelt down to defeat. It is likely they thought he would make the fight a little harder for them in their particular ballistics. And, certainly, they had a strong personal distaste for him and his pink and red following anyhow.

UNDOUBTEDLY, but for them, he would not only have been renominated but re-elected. There is no record in American political history either of the weakness of a vice presidential candidate defeating the ticket, or of his strength electing it. Under our system it is impossible to vote for the presidential candidate without voting for his running mate. With the voters, it is the head of the ticket that counts. The personality and record of the vice presidential candidate become matters of unimportance. Neither the geographical reasons for a presidential nomination nor his home state popularity ever has gained or lost the ticket a state it would not have gained or lost with another man.

IT IS impossible to find any competent politician in either party today who believes the Wallace nomination in 1944 would have affected the result; practically without exception they agree that if those three city bosses had not forced Mr. Roosevelt to change his mind, the Mr. Wallace so recently galloping around foreign lands, misrepresenting the purposes of his country, would be President Wallace, sitting in the White House making both foreign and domestic policy according to his own three-thumbed, twelve-fingered, web-footed ideas.

SO, when one considers what these men averted, there is a disposition to forgive them for all the sins they have committed in the past and any they might commit in the future. What difference does it make that they were not patriotically inspired? Nevertheless, they had a sure instinct. Perhaps a concrete medal or memorial would be neither fitting nor feasible. But when the temptation again is felt to pass harsh judgment upon these three hard-boiled practitioners of politics on the lower levels, the mitigating thought might occur that unwittingly they did save us from a national disaster.

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

One of Latin America's most vigorous and gifted personalities stepped into the forefront of international prestige and responsibility today with election of Dr. Oswaldo Aranha as president of the United Nations General Assembly hearing the case of Palestine.

Regardless of what pyrotechnics may develop over Great Britain's request for appointment of an international commission to study and report upon her problems, the Assembly itself is assured of impartial chairmanship.

Has Talents
Dr. Aranha is recognized and admired in the capital of the world for his rare combination of talents. He was born in the Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul 52 years ago, which automatically makes him a "gaucha," with all the romantic connotations that such a background involves.

He was—like so many other leading figures in government and diplomacy these days—educated in a military academy; and is an honorary brigadier-general in the Brazilian army. And he became a lawyer, politician, statesman and participant in the revolution headed by Getulio Vargas which changed the complexion of Brazil and had repercussions widely felt throughout the republics of Latin America.

Particular Fitness
Aranha's particular fitness for presidency of the General Assembly during discussion of the most difficult problem it has been called upon to handle was reflected in a formal address only a few weeks ago.

With patience and deep understanding of the manifold issues that beset the world, Dr. Aranha told the average person, and perhaps many members of the United Nations organization itself just what humanity possesses at this moment in the sphere of peace preservation. He reminded all his hearers that there is such a thing as the permanent Court of International Justice sitting at The Hague in Holland.

U. S. And Soviet In Opposition On Palestine

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., April 30.—The United States and Soviet Russia stand in direct opposition today in the United Nations special assembly over turbulent Palestine.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko, breaking a tight-lipped silence, aligned himself with the Arab cause by supporting their demands for inclusion on the agenda of a program calling for termination of the British mandate and declaration of an independent Holy Land.

Herschel V. Johnson, deputizing for Warren R. Austin in the latter's absence in Washington, served notice on the 14-nation steering committee that the United States is against the Arab proposal.

Johnson counseled a thorough study of the Palestine situation through appointment of a U. N. fact-finding commission in order to reach a fair solution. He warned that if the chance to settle the Holy Land problem permanently is missed, it will plunge into chaos and disorder.

The battle will be resumed today, leaving the next meeting of the assembly marking time until the general committee has reached its decision not only on the Arab demand but on the problem of granting or refusing representation to the Jewish agency.

Teaching Germans Democracy

BRINGING DEMOCRACY TO GERMAN YOUTH: This summer the Y.M.C.A. expects to have more than 100,000 German boys and young men attending camps like that pictured here in the American and British zones of Germany. There, the youths will learn the ways of democracy under the watchful eye of skillful leaders. To do its share in the retraining of German and Japanese youth, the Y.M.C.A. needs help. That is why it is conducting a World Youth Fund campaign for $2,650,000 to provide trained leaders and new equipment to replace that lost in the war.

British Officers Hunt Desperadoes For Holdup, Killing

Believe Three Masked Robbers Are American Army Deserters
Prying On London

LONDON, April 30.—(INS)—Scotland Yard acted today on the belief that three masked gunmen who robbed a London jewelry store and murdered a motorcyclist are American GI deserters armed with service revolvers.

Personnel of the American Special Investigation Bureau were called in to take part in the hunt for the men who threw central London into a turmoil yesterday.

May Control Gangs
British military forces also joined in the manhunt.

Scotland Yard believes that American deserters control a number of gangs which have been plaguing London.

The holdup took place in the busy Tottenham court road district. The men slugged the store manager, seized an unestimated amount of loot and ran to their waiting automobile.

A pedestrian who tried to stop them was slugged with a revolver butt.

Alex de Antiquis, 34, a father of six children, who blocked their getaway car, was shot to death.

Bus Strike May Hit Pittsburgh Suburban Areas

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—(INS)—Bus transportation to three Pittsburgh suburban districts was scheduled to end at midnight with the walkout of approximately 170 drivers of three companies in demand for a 25-cent hourly wage increase.

Service to the South Hills district was to be cut off by the walkout of drivers of the Brentwood Motor Coach Co. and the Bamford Brothers Bus Co. Drivers of the Ohio River Motor Coach Co. were scheduled to walk out, cutting off service to Sewickley, Ambridge and Aliquippa.

Officials of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Railway and Motor Coach Employees said the strike was called after the companies "refused to arbitrate" their contracts which expire at midnight. John T. Morgan, union business agent, said the companies had offered drivers a five-cent hourly increase.

Although no strike call has been issued for eight other Pittsburgh bus companies, their contracts expire at midnight also, Morgan said.

At Dinner: Concludes 47
Years Service

Three recently retired veterans of the Pennsylvania Railroad were honored over the week-end at a dinner held at a restaurant on the Sharon-Greenville road.

They were S. F. MacFarland of New Castle, foreman, with 47 years service, H. P. Campbell and S. H. Gilliland, trackmen, both of Lanesville, who have served 30 and 26 years with the system.

Twenty-three employees of the road's maintenance of way department were present, representing the Albion-New Castle, Erie and Niles districts. C. W. Weaver, supervisor of signals at New Castle, acted as master of ceremonies.

Marion Streett, Erie and Ashtabula division superintendent, spoke briefly, as did Walter A. Trimble, division engineer who presented each of the honor guests with a gift.

G. H. Perry, master carpenter of New Castle, was among eight other officials making speeches.

FROST THREAT IS BELIEVED ENDED
PITTSBURGH, April 30.—Warmer weather ended the immediate threat of further frost in the Pittsburgh district last night as surveys showed substantial damage to fruit trees by two successive frosty nights.

Henry R. Eby, county farm agent, said preliminary surveys showed sweet cherries and plums were seriously hurt by the first heavy frost of the growing season early Monday.

Mr. Eby said sweet cherries fared worse than sour cherries and there was some injury to peach and apple blossoms but it still looked as if there are plenty of those for a good crop.

Patent Wrangle Involves Three Firms, 30 Persons

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—(INS)—Three firms and 30 individuals today were named defendants in a half-million dollar suit in federal court by an Allison Park, Pa., man who claims to be inventor of a "gob-feeding" machine used in the manufacture of glass products.

Peter Kucera, in his suit filed in Pittsburgh, charged that the Hartford Empire Co. of Hartford, Conn., purchased patent rights to his machine to remove it from the market to eliminate competition in the distribution of glass making machinery.

Women Touch Up Staid Old Senate Room For Luncheon

Caucus Quarters Of Senate Become Dining Room As Women Honor Mrs. Harry Truman

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—The big, barn-like caucus room of the senate office building was transformed Tuesday into a bower of spring flowers in honor of a luncheon for Mrs. Harry S. Truman.

The first lady was guest of the senate ladies Red Cross unit, a group of senators' wives which meets every week to further Red Cross projects.

The woman's touch, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, blizzed the caucus room for the occasion, just about the largest room available in the senate, the rather dark and drab chamber is normally used for senate hearings.

Gets Woman's Touch
Tuesday the high-ceilinged room was thrown open to spring sunshine with the raising of the blinds. Mahogany folding chairs and desks were removed to make way for long tables covered with white table cloths and thin china sets for 108 guests.

Mrs. Vandenberg, acting as chairman of the group in the absence of a vice president and vice president's wife, explained that the unit entertained the first lady once a year at a spring luncheon.

This is the first time however that the ladies have taken over their husbands' No. 1 inquisition chamber to make it a ladies' dining room.

administration came in. At best, however, this would be a minor change.

Co-operation depends, in the last analysis, on the skill and tact of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. He has no official mandate from his party to speak for the party on foreign policy. At a time of intense rivalry for position, the senator from Michigan must move warily. If he goes too far, he can destroy his own usefulness.

Fell on Vandenberg

Most of the burden of support for the Greek-Turkish program in the Senate fell on Vandenberg. The Democratic leader, Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky was out of the country while the issue was being debated. Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, raised an emotional plea for the Truman doctrine, but the task of conviction and persuasion fell to Vandenberg. It was he who worked out the amendments intended to bring the policy in line with United Nations co-operation.

Sen. Vandenberg is not now a member of the American delegation to the U. N. Assembly. Under U. N. regulations, a new delegation must be named for each new assembly. It is not likely that Vandenberg will accept membership on our delegation so long as the Republicans have a majority in Congress and a Democrat is in the White House. The fact that the delegation is subject to the "orders" of the President would complicate Vandenberg's position in the Senate and inside the GOP.

Need More Than Words
Agreement must be more than a form of words to mean anything. Marshal Tito, Yugoslavia's hard-boiled dictator, agrees with Henry Wallace's views on American foreign policy. We learn this from no less an authority than Johannes Steel, the radio commentator who ran for Congress on the American Labor Party ticket in New York, with Wallace's backing. Interviewing Tito in Belgrade, Steel comes up with these extraordinary quotes:

"The Yugoslav people love Wallace as a man who belongs to the great democratic tradition of America. We like people who are objective. On the whole," and here Tito grinned broadly, "I agree with the greater part of Wallace's speeches."

We can all grin broadly at that one. We can even laugh out loud. For we know how empty that kind of agreement is. We know it is a convenient pose assumed to serve the current communist strategy in the Balkans and throughout the world.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUZZLES

believe it is the apotheosis of the English language. When I was a boy, school was opened by the reading of at least a part of a chapter from the Bible, followed by the repetition of the Lord's Prayer, but that has been abandoned for a long time.

You go to a dance. Are the dancers graceful? The modern boy and girl may think so, but what has become of the Strauss waltzes? What has become of the stately minuet? It has been forsaken and in its place we have the "jitter-bugs"—and this in polite society, the best society we have.

On the stage, do we see any Ada Rehan, Lilla Langtry, Julia Marlowe, Mrs. Pat Campbell, Sarah Bernhardt. No. Nor do we see any Edwin Booth or anyone even approaching him. The stage has been practically abandoned for the movies.

You go into an art gallery. Do you see any Rembrandts or Whistlers? No, there is some hideous affair by an Impressionist.

Perhaps the educators of the United States have not approached the matter in its right way, but there should be a return to the old-fashioned methods.

My grandfather started me out with a Latin grammar and lexicon when I was eight years old. I was not very responsive to his teaching and he said, "I will have you when you were born." It is said that Queen Elizabeth when she was six years old could carry on a conversation in the Latin and Greek languages, as well as in the French.

Relegated to High School

Now what little language is taught in the schools of the United States is relegated to the high school. The first year in high school, when the boy or girl is thirteen or fourteen years old, he or she is given some smattering of the Latin language. And a lesson, for instance, in Virgil is a translation of ten lines. And in the colleges what Latin is taught, the boy or girl is astounded when he or she is asked to prepare to recite one hundred lines or two or three pages of Aeneid.

I remember one young man who came to college rightfully prepared and being called upon to translate the day's lesson from the Iliad of Homer, proceeded to translate in beautiful English. He went on and on, way past the lesson outlined and we were astounded. The professor, who was the father of the present president of Yale, allowed him to go on, and finally stopping him said:

"You have read this before."

"Oh, yes," replied the young man. And then rather than spoil the recitation, Professor Seymour shut his eyes and leaned back and spoke the Iliad as it is written—the most musical language that the sons of men were ever permitted to speak. I will never forget that recitation.

Wound Up as Brig. General

And again I remember another young man who had come to college rightfully prepared. He enlisted as a private in the United States Army after graduation and finally wound up as a Brigadier-General. He was at a Round Table at one of our Class Reunions and he spoke of his being examined for his first advancement to the rank of Second Lieutenant. The examiner was a Colonel, who was graduated from Harvard University before he entered West Point. He knew something about this classmate of mine and with bitter irony said:

"I believe you are a graduate of Yale."

"Yes."

"You studied Latin and Greek?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember any Greek that you learned?"

"Yes, I do."

And then for our benefit, he said: "I gave the Colonel Homers' lamentation of Hector's wife at the death of Hector." And repeated it for us.

It was a "stumper" for the Colonel. And we were just as much amazed as was the Colonel. There was no more questions asked. How many men of education could do that today?

No, it is time that our educators returned to first principles.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

the child and mother are over the matter.

When the whole family conspire to torment the victim his sufferings may become intolerable. Few parents realize that the more remorse, worry and ignominy the child has over his bed-wetting the harder it is for him to get over the trouble.

The parent is most successful in helping the child learn to sleep dry who is wholly calm and reasonable about the problem and treats it with no more emotion or disapproval than a sore finger or cold.

(My bulletin, "Psychology Applied to Bed-Wetting" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

A mother writes of her child, three:

"We put her on the toilet before she goes to bed, again at about 11 p. m., again at 3 a. m., and when she awakens at 6, unless we do this she rarely sleeps dry all night."

No Physical Cause

She says the doctor can find no physical cause and that the child is always very happy when she has slept dry all night. She wonders whether she should spank the child for bed-wetting.

I wrote her begging that she not only refrain from spanking that child for bed-wetting but also from scolding her or showing the slightest vexation. Go on getting her up at night, always praising her in the mornings when she is dry. Later, gradually lengthen the intervals of taking her up, trying to reduce the times to two, then one each night.

Just remember she is still very young. If you can keep calm and patient over the matter your child will soon have outgrown the annoyance. Then what a victory!

TO PROBE CRASH OF PRIVATE PLANE TAKING TWO LIVES

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 30.—(INS)—Federal aeronautics inspectors today were expected to open an investigation of the crash near Bellefonte of a mail carrying private airplane which claimed the lives of two men.

The plane, which carried mail between Williamsport and Pittsburgh, crashed and burned last night killing Gearhart Porter, 35, of Williamsport, the pilot, and Robert Schneider, 22, of Pittsburgh, flight mechanic.

The accident occurred shortly after the westbound plane, operated by the All-American Aviation Co., missed a non-stop mail pickup at the Bellefonte airport.

IN VIEW OF THE NEWS

He laid stress upon the little-known fact that even the Security Council of the United Nations is little more than an advisory body and that the countries and governments which created the forum did not intend that it should have "teeth"—or in other words the power to punish a disturber of world harmony, unless guilty of outright aggression. Tall and distinguished in appearance, a former ambassador to Washington and to Cuba and with a thorough knowledge of English and Spanish as well as his native Portuguese, Dr. Aranha fills his impressive chair with great dignity and vast background.

He had planned to return to Rio de Janeiro last week. United States and Latin American delegates prevailed upon him to remain for this crucial session, turning toward him as an impartial arbitrator and an experienced administrator. He accepted in advance his nomination to the presidency. The General Assembly at a critical time has found a helmsman who will not let his craft founder.

From 1940 to 1945, total U. S. milk production rose 12 per cent and egg production 40 per cent.

New Truman Doctrine Not To Solve Security

CHICAGO, April 30. — (INS)—Scientists who assisted in the development of the atomic bomb warned that the new Truman doctrine "will not solve the central problem of our security—that of atomic weapons."

In an editorial in the current issue of the "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists," the publication emphasized that "the elimination of atomic weapons by agreement must remain the central task of our policy."

The scientists said America's traditional ocean barriers no longer are effective weapons of defense, and that in any atomic war, "America will face crippling blows." They continued:

"Therefore the foremost task of our policy must be to prevent the state of affairs in which several nations will be armed with atomic weapons."

May Secure Secret
The bulletin pointed out that Russia, sometime within the next three to 15 years, will have unlocked the secret of nuclear fission. The editorial stated further:

"The blunt truth is that the Soviet Union can be prevented from acquiring atomic arms in only two ways: by effective agreement or by force directed not towards her periphery but at her very center."

"A war, accelerated by our own forceful policy within the next few years, may leave the American homeland relatively untouched, but will mean a colossal new sacrifice of American blood and resources."

and money, and will lead to devastation by American bombs, of most of Europe and a large part of Asia."

Cannot Rest
"That is why we cannot rest in the satisfaction of having offered a fair and imaginative plan (for international control) and the disappointment of having seen it decided and largely rejected by the Soviet Union. We do not believe that all possibilities of a peaceful solution have been exhausted."

The atomic scientists warned also that "those who preach that we have only to tighten the secrecy around our atomic laboratories and plants to make us safe are the worst deceivers in the American people and traitors to American security."

They said that "there is obviously no sense in disclosing gratuitously the American production secrets. All misrepresentations to the contrary, no reputable American scientists, and no organization of atomic scientists have ever advocated such a 'gesture'."

"Why would we do anything to accelerate the Soviet advance towards atomic armaments? Unfortunately, we cannot delay it."

Gymanfa Ganu At Church Here Sunday

Many American-Welsh From Surrounding Cities Will Attend Annual Event Here

On Sunday afternoon and evening in the First Congregational church, indications are that the largest crowd in the history of the local Gymnanfa Ganu (Welsh Hymn Singing Assembly) will be in attendance. Buses of passengers are coming from Canton, Steubenville, Niles, Ohio, and Aliquippa for the annual event.

All local arrangements for the occasion have been completed by the committee. General chairman is Griff Thomas, with Miss Florrie Davies, secretary.

Prof. T. Herbert Davies of Steubenville, O., will be director of the assembly singing, and Mrs. John M. Evans will preside at the organ.

The outstanding American-Welshmen will preside at the sessions. Dr. Thomas Jones of the Cleveland Clinic hospital, and president of the Welsh society of Cleveland will preside in the afternoon at 2:30, and Judge Elmer T. Phillips of Youngstown in the evening at 7.

The Willing Workers society of the church, headed by Mrs. Rachel Long, will provide refreshments in the dining room, following the afternoon session.

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, the pastor, will preach in the morning service on a subject in keeping with the Gymnanfa Ganu event.

Union Seniors' Play On Friday

Three-Act Comedy, 'Don't Take My Penny,' In Union High Auditorium

The curtain is going up! The play, "Don't Take My Penny," a three-act comedy is to be presented by the seniors of Union High School, Friday evening, May 2, at 8:15 o'clock. Anne Martens is author of the play.

Action moves fast in this farce, and everything happens in the course of a day. The living room of the Pringles, a typical American family is the scene, and complications that arise will tickle the funny bone of those in the audience.

Seeks To Be Movie Star
It seems that Penny, a typical 16 year old American girl aspires to be what every young girl wants to be—a movie star. Naturally her boy friend, Kerry Harper, frowns upon this idea, and you guessed it, things begin to happen.

Joanna and Greg, another couple and friends of Penny and Kerry come into the picture. Upon hearing of Kerry's plight, Greg comes to the rescue and together the boys hatch a scheme to disillusion Penny's aspirations to be a movie queen. The plot revolves around Kerry's disguising himself as an author of a famous play in which Penny wants to try for the leading part...and from then on...there are laughs, laughs and more laughs. But in the finish all ends well.

Cast Of Play
Mrs. Helen King, of the Union High faculty is the director of the play.

The cast includes: Penny—Leona Heckart; Kerry Harper—Bill Robinson; Joanna—Martha Cifra; Greg—Homer Phenice; Sally—Gladys Grittle; Mark, a brother, Bill Zelina; Gwyn—a sister, Lorraine Crespy; Lydia, mother—Ruth Shoaff; Caleb—father—Bob Stoughton; grandmother, Kay Pilshaw; Norman Porter the publicity man—Raymond Conti; Harrison Day—the author—Leroy Harry; Sir Henri, Frenchman—Eddie Cartwright; three models—Pat Peterson, Norma Crum and Pat Bartlett; and delivery boy, Red—Tommy Duncan.

Lions Club Hears Musical Program

Students From Music Department At Westminster College Are Heard Tuesday Noon

Lions club members heard an interesting musical program in connection with their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Tuesday noon, when students from the music department at Westminster college furnished the program, presenting a group of solo and duet numbers.

The Westminster college quartet was to have presented the program, but due to illness of one of the members, a mixed group was heard. Miss Alice Eppley, soprano, Donald Davis, tenor, and Francis Peterson, baritone, accompanied by Miss Ruth Temple and Bruce Keffer, presented the musical numbers.

Jack Gerson and George F. Winter Jr. were presented with Monarch chevrons in token of their ten years of membership in the club.

The club took an expression on Daylight Saving Time, which was almost unanimously in favor of changing.

TO REPAIR STREETS
James Gibson, director of streets today stated that, within the near future all the depressions in paved thoroughfares will have been patched with blacktop, or an asphaltic material.

The plants which manufacture the asphaltic material are resuming operations and within a week or two, the city will order its summer supply.

Income Tax Payments Near Record In March

By FRANCES SPATZ
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Individuals in March paid the second highest income tax in history in spite of a 15 per cent post-war tax reduction which affected 1946 incomes.

The internal revenue bureau reported today that March individual income tax collections were at the high level of one billion, 967 million dollars—a mere six million dollars below the peak wartime March of 1943.

Last month's returns from individuals were 85 million dollars above the March 1946 level.

For comparison with the pre-war normal, 1939 March collections from individuals were little more than a quarter billion dollars.

Corporations paid one billion, 711 million dollars income taxes in March, the highest in history.

However, corporations back in March paid one and a quarter billion dollars excess profits taxes as compared with a dribble of eighty million dollars last month.

Therefore total taxes paid by corporations actually fell almost half a billion dollars from their level of over two and a quarter billion dollars in March, 1946.

Bureau figures show revenues from all sources in March totaled four billion, 570 million dollars. This is a decline of one and a quarter billion dollars from the peak March collections which occurred in 1943.

Swinging Away

March's collections indicate the pendulum is continuing to swing away from the highest revenue year of all, 1945, when total receipts topped 43 and a third billion dollars.

From the 1945 high, collections dropped in 1946 to thirty-eight billion, 640 million dollars—a four and three-quarters billion dollars tumble.

However, the pendulum still is far away from the prewar revenue level of four billion 957 million dollars for 1939 and five billion, 862 million dollars for 1940.

Tax receipts from luxuries and amusements also reflect the downward trend.

March taxes on admissions to theaters, cabarets and sports events were thirty-three million dollars—three million dollars below those of the previous year.

Uncle Sam also suffered a tax loss of one and a half million dollars on jewelry from March of last year, a million dollars on cosmetics and other toilet preparations and half a million dollars on furs.

London Dockmen Vote To Return To Work Thursday

LONDON, April 30.—(INS)—One thousand stevedores employed on London's West India docks voted today to return to work tomorrow regardless of the decision of the Glasgow strikers at their afternoon meeting.

The Glasgow dockworkers, whose strike precipitated a sympathy walkout in London, will vote on acceptance of the ministry of labor promise that their grievances will be accorded swift consideration if they return to work.

The nine thousand London strikers had pledged to emulate them if they go back to the job tomorrow.

Huge piles of foodstuffs remained unmoved, meanwhile, on the London docks where the unloading of about 80 vessels is at a standstill. Labor Minister G. A. Isaacs warned the strikers the government would take necessary measures to safeguard the nation's food supplies.

The strike began in Glasgow six weeks ago in protest against the dismissal of several hundred workers.

Two Sentenced For Violence In Recent Strike

MILWAUKEE, April 30.—(INS)—Two stewards of Local 248 of the CIO-United Automobile Workers were under sentence today for violence during the recent 11-month strike at the West Allis plant of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.

Walter Galon, 33, was sentenced to five months in the House of Correction and Ben Jakubowski, 22, to four months and fined $50 for attacks on three non-strikers.

Galon and Jakubowski were accused of interfering with the pursuit of work by Carl Zieke, 53, Frank Pycyk, 61, and Joseph Wage, 29.

Vet Is Suicide In Pittsburgh Police Station

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—(INS)—An unemployed Navy veteran who served through the Pacific and Okinawa campaigns hanged himself in the Northside Station yesterday, police reported.

Police said John H. Hess, 25, of nearby Springdale, walked into the police station and asked permission to "get a little sleep."

Half an hour later, Turnkey Peter McCullough found him hanging from his belt, tied to the cell bars. Friends of the youth said he had been hunting steadily for employment since his discharge last August after six years in the Navy.

Wins Extradition Battle; Can Stay In Pennsylvania

Corliss Carpenter Need Not Return To Ohio For 25-Year-Old Crime

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—(INS)—A nervous, middle-aged carpenter, or nearby Corliss, today had the right to legal freedom in Pennsylvania, after winning his fight against extradition to Ohio for a crime he committed 25 years ago.

William H. Dern, Jr., 46, was allowed to go free under a writ of Habeas Corpus, by Judge Thomas A. Marshall. The graying carpenter was freed, Judge Marshall said, because he had worked as a "good citizen of Pennsylvania" since his escape from an Ohio prison.

Dern told the court he was convicted of grand larceny for the theft of scrap brass for a building he helped to raise 25 years ago.

He said he was sentenced to one to seven years in prison but "walked away" in 1922 after he was made a "trustee."

Dern said he came to Pittsburgh, assumed a new name and married. During the intervening years he has been a "reliable, honest citizen," neighbors testified.

He said a fellow worker in the Carpenters' Union, who knew of his presence in the Pittsburgh district, notified Ohio authorities of his presence in the Pittsburgh district. Judge Marshall said Dern had proved to be a "good citizen of this state" and was entitled to a "break."

CHILD STRUCK BY AUTO

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—(INS)—Four-year-old Charles O'Neil was reported in serious condition today in Southside hospital in Pittsburgh after he dashed from between two parked cars last night and was struck by an automobile near his home. Police said the child suffered head cuts and a possible fractured skull when he ran in front of an automobile driven by Andrew Baronowski.

State Food Trade Committee Opposes Tax On Margarine

HARRISBURG, April 30.—(INS)—Opposition to a proposed $5 retail tax for the sale of oleomargarine was voiced today by the Pennsylvania Food Trade Committee on margarine distribution.

Charles H. Von Tegen, of Philadelphia, committee chairman, said in a letter to Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn (R) Delaware sponsors of the measure, that it was a "highly discriminatory bill."

"Your bill is unnecessary from the standpoint of protecting the public against buying margarine without their knowledge," Von Tegen said. "The Federal Pure Food Laws and the General Food Law of Pennsylvania provide specifically that margarine must be properly labeled and the materials from which it is made clearly stated on each package."

Von Tegen claimed it was his "understanding" that Heyburn introduced the bill for Sen. George B. Scarlett (R) Chester, Agriculture Committee chairman.

March Traffic Accidents Claim Lives Of 2,410

CHICAGO, April 30.—(INS)—Traffic accidents killed 2,410 persons in the nation during March to bring the death toll for the first three months of the year to 6,920.

The National Safety Council reported today in Chicago that the March deaths were 14 per cent below those for the same month of 1946.

The count for the first three months was 16 per cent below that for the same period of '46.

However, the council warned: "The trend does not indicate a substantial lowering of the traffic toll for the entire year unless last year's excellent summer and fall safety record is surpassed."

Prison Sentence Reversed In Case Of War Objector

Three-Year Term Reversed By Court; Draft Board Powers Held 'Not Supreme'

PHILADELPHIA, April 30—(INS)—The third circuit court of appeals Tuesday reversed a three-year prison term against a conscientious objector who was charged with failing to obey a draft order.

The court upset the conviction and sentence of Frederick Francis Zieber, 22, of route No. 3, Fleetwood, Pa., ruling that the powers of draft boards were not "supreme."

Zieber had contended that he was a minister of the Jehovah Witnesses sect and therefore was entitled to exemption from the draft. He was sentenced in Biloxi, Miss., last September, but has been at liberty under $25,000 bail since.

His local draft board, No. 2 at Hamburg, placed him in 4-D, however, and ordered him to report to the civilian service camp at Lapine, Ore., on Dec. 3, 1945, a conscientious objector.

Refused To Go
Zieber refused to go, and submitted "additional information" to his draft board to prove he was a minister. He charged the local board failed to consider it when he appeared.

Judge Sidney C. Mize of the lower court had instructed the jury that "honest errors" by a draft board were no defense to a criminal charge that a registrant failed to obey its orders.

Mize also failed to instruct the jury that Zieber was entitled to acquittal if the jury believed he had not received fair treatment from his local board.

"Good faith and honest intention on the part of the local board is not enough," said Judge John Biggs, Jr., senior member of the circuit court.

"There must be a full and fair compliance with the provisions of the act and the applicable regulations."

Beulah And Bud Rather Jealous Letters Reveal

Fair Awaiting Trial For Yacht Blast Death Declare Undying Love

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 30.—(INS)—Emotional love letters expressing strong affections and violent jealousies were disclosed Tuesday to have been exchanged by Beulah Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum from the respective jail cells.

The correspondence revealed a plot hatched by Gollum for him and his sweetheart to escape from jail or die together in a suicide pact if they are convicted of murdering the girl's parents by causing a time bomb to explode aboard their yacht.

In one of the letters Gollum threatened to kill the girl if she ever leaves him for another man and to kill the man, too.

And Miss Overell threatened in a note to Gollum to kill herself with sleeping pills if he ever leaves her.

WAA Chief Cleans Out Top Officials To Get Efficiency

WASHINGTON, April 30—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn has fired half his top-flight officials since he took over the War Assets Administration in a desperate attempt to bring efficiency to the gigantic surplus disposal agency.

This was disclosed today as hearings on the second deficiency appropriation bill by the House Appropriations Committee were made public.

Gen. Littlejohn told the group: "I have had to remove over 50 percent of my regional directors since I have been administrator because they were not up to my standards."

He added that he thought he now had a "pretty good organization" and said "when these fellows do not click I turn the heat on them."

He agreed with Rep. Engel (R) Mich., who said that the Detroit and Chicago offices were "just plain lousy from my experience in the past."

The general said that WAA has disposed of about half of all surplus property.

He revealed that the agency has on hand about twenty-one billion dollars worth of equipment, five billions of which is expected to be made available when certain camps, posts and stations are closed and other items are to be turned over.

Would Regulate Auto Buying On Installment Plan

HARRISBURG, April 30—(INS)—Legislation which would impose strict controls on installment sales of automobiles was given a favorable recommendation in the House Tuesday by the Banking Committee.

The remedial legislation stemmed from the joint State Government Commission's 18-month study of "gyp financing" in Pennsylvania.

Curbs would be exercised by the Pennsylvania Consumer Credit Commission which would be established in the State Banking Department under the legislation co-sponsored by Speaker Franklin H. Lichter and Majority Leader Herbert P. Sore.

State Senator Is Under Criticism

PHILADELPHIA, April 30—(INS)—Former Congressman Michael J. Bradley criticized State Sen. John H. Dent today for introducing a state horse-racing measure and intimating that he should resign as senate minority leader.

Bradley, chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic executive committee, said he believed Dent introduced the legislation without consulting "recognized leaders of the party."

The city chairman, expressing his opposition to the measure, declared: "The harm done to the business life and to the welfare of a community where a race track operates is incalculable." Bradley added: "Senator Dent should consider steps to relieve the party of any embarrassment his action may cause."

Note Expansion Of Kindergarten Program In State

HARRISBURG, April 30—(INS)—Expansion of Pennsylvania's kindergarten program was noted Tuesday by the Department of Public Instruction.

Superintendent Francis B. Haas reported 41,668 youngsters were enrolled in 630 kindergartens during the 1945-46 school term compared with an enrollment of 35,873 children in 590 kindergartens the preceding year.

"In Pennsylvania the kindergarten is seen as an important part of a good elementary school," Haas asserted. "Through the wise guidance of the teacher, the informal atmosphere of the kindergarten will provide a natural easy transition between the home and the school."

Seventeen school districts opened 17 pre-school training centers for tots during those periods, he said, and reports indicated another 30 or 40 will be established. Attendance should pass the 45,000 mark during the current year, he added.

Truman Signs New Copper Import Bill

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—President Truman on Tuesday placed his signature of approval on a measure seeking to alleviate a current shortage of copper in the country.

The bill removes from today thru March 31, 1949, an excise tax of four cents a pound on importation of copper and copper products.

Secretary Marshall's Program Supported By Sen. Vandenberg

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), on Tuesday supported Secretary of State Marshall in his refusal to compromise on principles at Moscow and warned that America "cannot wait too long" for a peace settlement so far blocked by Russia.

The senate foreign relations chairman said in a statement concerning Marshall's radio report to the nation:

"Secretary Marshall has honestly faced realities. Peace lags because the Soviets insist upon demands which America and her other allies cannot accept."

"It is worth a supreme effort to seek agreement during the coming months. But the secretary is right in declining to surrender basic principles in payment for compromise and expediency. He also is right in frankly stating that we and the world cannot indefinitely permit disintegrating forces to threaten sound results."

"We must still strive for a united program. But if it is beyond reasonable reach, we cannot wait too long for a peace program which at least unites those who agree."

PRINTS POPULAR FOR SPRING DRESSES

Prints for spring and summer dresses are favorites with many women. Black or dark colored backgrounds with bright print are excellent for general wear now but light backgrounds with the print in dark or pastel colors are better for warm weather wear.

A print dress with a coat or jacket in plain color makes an attractive and complete costume. The jacket or coat may be lined with the print of the dress. Another combination is the suit with a print blouse and the jacket of the suit lined with the print.

A dress may be a combination of a print and a plain color, such as a print top and plain skirt or plain color with a print scarf.

For general wear, a print with a black or dark colored background is a good choice. Prints vary from a small all-over pattern to the gaudy ones with splashes of bright color. While the choice of patterns is still limited, there is a chance for anyone to select a pattern for suitability and becomingness. As a rule a small or a well covered design is better for general wear while the splashy designs are good for more dressy occasions.

Many of the fabrics now are made as wide as 50 inches. This will make a difference in the number of yards needed for a dress. Be sure to check the pattern and the width of material before buying it.

Says 'Secret Hand' Had Influence In Property Disposal

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(INS)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), charged Tuesday that the "secret hand" of the army and navy operated to "intimidate" the War Assets Administration from disposing of surplus machine tools.

Ferguson made this assertion after hearing testimony from WAA officials regarding the sudden halting of an advertised sale of 6,000 machine tools at the Wright aeronautical plant, Lockland, O., after three million dollars in orders were taken.

As chairman of a senate executive expenditures subcommittee, Ferguson declared that the armed forces, "anticipating that they may at some future date" need the equipment, have frozen sales by "secret agreement."

Steel Magazine Sees New Record Near In Industry

NEW YORK, April 30.—(INS)—Iron Age said today that the ground work was laid this week for a steel output performance that may rival the all-time production record established in 1944.

The national metal working paper said the coal problem "is still high in the picture but some sources believe there is a good chance of it being cleaned up by July 1."

Iron Age said steel production from Jan. 1 to the middle of the week has totaled slightly more than 28 million tons. It said if this rate is continued for a year, the industry would turn out 30 per cent more steel than in the peacetime year of 1939 and nearly reach the all-time peak of 89.6 million tons of steel produced in 1944.

The paper said the steel industry "got additional help in shouldering the new heavy wage bill when scrap prices at major centers slid off further."

100 FEET FROM HOME...

Billy is happily skating... he bends down to tighten his skate straps... playmates scream... brakes screech... the car stops, but not in time. Billy is dead—just 100 feet from home.

Why must 191 Billies—15 years of age and under—needlessly die every year? And 583 older pedestrians are killed every year in traffic accidents—bringing the gory total to 774 lives snuffed out on Pennsylvania's streets and highways. Why? Because we forget the rules of common courtesy and consideration. We forget to act "safely."

We are too apt to blame the driver of the car every time a pedestrian fatality occurs. Actually—the pedestrian often is as much at fault as the driver.

Parents should caution children about playing in the streets. Drivers should be doubly on the alert while driving where children play. In the heat of a game—children will run into the street after a bouncing ball heedless of traffic. The driver has to think for himself—and the children, too. Children should be taught to give a car the right of way where there are no traffic signals.

These safety rules apply to children and adults! Obey traffic signals while walking and bicycling. Look both ways before crossing a street or road. Don't jaywalk. Walk against traffic on rural roads. Never dart out into the highway from between parked cars.

If the pedestrian shoulders his part of safety responsibility both in his personal walking habits and by teaching his children good safety habits—then our little and big Billies will be saved.

PENNSYLVANIA WILL PUNISH TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

TO THE FULL EXTENT OF THE LAW, IF AT FAULT IN A TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

YOU FACE LOSS OF YOUR DRIVING PRIVILEGE... HEAVY FINES... JAIL SENTENCES.

Two Male Bears, Kidnap Suspects, Mauled By 'Mama'

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 30.—(INS)—Two male bears licked their wounds today after being mauled by "Goldy," a mama bear who thought they had kidnapped her two cubs.

The two "papa" bears were not guilty but they took a good beating from the paws of "Goldy."

John Orth, director of the Bear Mountain museum, accomplished the kidnapping of the two cubs after luring "Goldy" and the two males to a secluded end of the four-acre bear "cage" with meat.

Outside of the pummeling the two "papa" bears took no one was injured except Orth who was bitten on the thumb by one of the two-month-old cubs. The cubs are in "protective custody" getting milk, syrup and cod liver oil every three hours.

New Hope Seen For Untouchable Hordes In India

NEW DELHI, April 30.—(INS)—A new era of hope and dignity dawned today for 10 million Indian untouchables condemned for centuries by a fantastic code to be outcasts and scavengers.

The Indian constituent assembly voted abolition of untouchability. They will be given all full rights with other Indians when the country's constitution comes to be written.

Few people in history have endured the cruel ostracism and humiliation directed against the "depressed classes."

They may not come into contact with caste Hindus, whom they would pollute by touch or nearness.

In many parts of India they are not permitted to draw their water from public wells. Their children are not permitted to attend school.

NO PROSECUTIONS

Harry Jones, sealer of weights and inspector of measures today stated that since he assumed office he has not had occasion to cause any prosecution for short weight. "In fact," said Jones "I talked recently with a state inspector and he said that he has not had one prosecution in 12 years."

GRANGE NEWS

EAST BROOK GRANGE
Members of the East Brook Grange held their regular meeting in the hall on Monday evening, with master William Knight presiding.

During the business session, a social committee was appointed to serve for the next three months. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Patterson, Mrs.

Kenneth Kauffman, Mrs. J. E. Oesterling.

Lecturer Charles Cornman presented the following program: Group singing by the assembly. Mrs. M. M. Ingham, accompanist. Roll call, "A special tree you remember, and why". Mrs. George Patterson gave a poem "Legend of the dogwood tree". John Robinson talked on trees, and displayed samples of finished wood of several trees. Mrs. Mae McConaghey sang "Trees" by George Kilman. Mrs.

Charles Cornman gave an amusing reading "Rhyming under difficulties". A tasty lunch was served by the social committee, Mrs. A. T. Jennings, chairman. Next meeting in the hall, Monday evening, May 12.

BREAKS WINDOW

Several windows were broken by a stone in the Hileman apartment last night, according to police.

SHARON MAN KILLED
SHARON, Pa., April 30.—(INS)—

State police today reported Herold L. Stinedurf, 28, of Sharon, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile while walking along a highway near the Wheatland Tube Co. plant.

Stratosphere rockets were recently tracked throughout their flight by high frequency radio waves; motion pictures showed how the earth would look to a man speeding up to 65 miles above the surface in a rocket.

Despite Handicaps, Homes Being Built

Building materials supplies may be easing, according to the latest reports except for several essential materials, and in New Castle, in spite of general building situation, there are numerous houses in process of construction. Have you wondered, as you see a foundation going in here, siding going on there, about how many houses are going up in the city?

Outside the city limits they are far more numerous and to undertake an accurate count would involve a long trek. Some have gone up quickly, though, in some ways might find a few essentials missing inside. Some appear to make little progress from week to week, and some are at a standstill for the time being waiting possibly for sewer pipe or bathroom fixtures.

Viewed of a recent afternoon within the city limits in the north hill area, there are two dozen or more houses under construction in varying stages. Some so far are only holes of yellow clay excavated for the foundations, some are under roof but without doors or windows. Several are so recently completed that all the siding isn't on yet but the anxious homeowner has moved in willy nilly. Interiors are in varying stages of finish. "We'll move in and finish it while we're in—it's the only thing we can do" is the plaint of some that are really caught in the jam of the housing situation.

Up Since Fall

Yes, houses have sprouted in some unexpected places around the north hill since last fall.

At 145 Boyles avenue there is a one-story bungalow finished with white asbestos shingles. And on Wallace avenue a conversion job is turning what was a tiny old frame house into the skeleton for a sizeable brick residence.

Group Of Three

Up on Highland avenue at the corner of Garfield, foundations for three new homes have been excavated and over at the corner of Sheridan and Albert streets is a brick two-story house.

On Glenmore boulevard east of Delaware there are two a-bulding. One, a two-story Cape Cod type is under roof and the foundation is going in for the other. Over at the other end of Glenmore near Mercer street, a two-story frame house has just been completed and a foundation for another has been excavated.

Construction Slow

Work is proceeding slowly on a modern type concrete block house on the northwest corner of the Delaware and Fairmont intersection.

On Englewood a colonial type two-floor house is nearly completed, at least on the exterior, and on Fairfield avenue a handsome large new home has not been long completed.

Cluster On Northview

Over on Northview avenue, east of Mercer street, a cluster of small new homes are in various stages from "just moved in" to excavating for the foundation. Two streets further down there is a small one-story modern type stucco still under construction.

East of Highland avenue in Ne-shannock township 10 or 15 new homes have recently been built.

North Carlisle street north of Euclid avenue boasts a recently completed brick house and tucked in over on West Sheridan avenue east of Wilmington avenue, is a small but very attractive one-floor brick home.

So, in spite of shortages, scarcities, difficulties, costs and discouragements, there are houses being built. But 'taint easy. Ask the man who's in the throes.

General Assembly Falls In Line On President's Term

HARRISBURG, April 30.—(INS)—The General Assembly today was aligned with legislatures of more than a dozen other states which have ratified a proposed amendment to the federal constitution to limit Presidents to two terms.

Republican senators overrode the opposition of the entire Democratic bloc to approve by a vote of 33-16 a joint resolution adopted by the House proposing ratification. The resolution was sent to Gov. James H. Duff for transmittal to the State Department.

Controversy On Issue Democrats denounced the resolution, claiming it would hamstring "the rights of those who follow us." Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn (R), said the GOP backed it to prohibit anyone from staying in office long enough to be able to "perpetuate himself in office through his appointive powers."

Sen. Carlleton T. Woodring (D) Northampton, pointed out the "people uniformly have refused to do anything about limiting the tenure for 160 years." Minority Leader John H. Dent asserted the resolution was a direct slap at the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and came "after the decision to break with tradition had been made by the people."

The proposal was termed undemocratic by Sen. John J. Haluska (D) Cambria, who challenged the consistency of "permitting sheriffs to succeed themselves one week and trying to limit the President's term of office the next."

Hearing Slated For Couple Who Abandoned Family

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 30.—(INS)—A steelworker and his wife, of nearby Elco, today will be given a hearing in Charleroi on charges of abandoning their six children nearly a week ago.

Police said Charles J. Gales, 33, and his wife, Catherine, 34, were under arrest after their children—the youngest one year and the oldest 12—were found alone and hungry in their home. The two youngest children, police said, required treatment for malnutrition.

Police said the father returned to his home Monday night to feed his four dogs, but paid no heed to the children.

Gales was found in a club at Roscoe yesterday and his wife was located at a friend's home in Clairton. Mrs. Gales told police she left home because she was "afraid" of her husband because he beat her.

Senator Wilson Served In 1899

Jefferson County Member Of
State Legislature Is 79
Years Of Age

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, April 30.—(INS)—Sen. Henry I. Wilson (R) Jefferson, is the only member of the present General Assembly who served in Pennsylvania's legislature prior to the turn of the century. Wilson, a tall, gray-haired resident of Big Run, served in the House of Representatives during the sessions of 1889-1900, 1911-12, 1915-16, and the special session of 1936 to 1940 when he was elected to the senate. He was re-elected three years ago. He frequently calls his colleagues to task for dilatory tactics. The 79-year-old lawmaker was born near Wellsboro. He is a lawyer and a musician. During the session of 1907-08, Wilson was the senate journal clerk. He is the oldest member of the upper chamber.

Wilson first served in the General Assembly during the period when the present state capital was being constructed. The old capitol building, which was completed in 1821 after six years work, was destroyed by fire at noon Feb. 2, 1897. The present structure was dedicated by the late President Theodore Roosevelt in October, 1903. While the building was being constructed, legislative sessions were held in the Grace Methodist church in midtown Harrisburg.

The 1945 edition of the Pennsylvania Manual contains several sections listing Pennsylvania's contributions to the winning of World War II. The articles were written by State Historian Sylvester K. Stevens and his assistant, Marvin W. Schlegel. Backgrounder sketches of Pennsylvania men who won the congressional medal of honor during the second world conflict are included in the manual along with lists of generals and admirals.

Rep. Samuel B. Dennison (R) Jefferson, is a short man who good naturedly takes kiddings from his colleagues about his height. Sometimes when Dennison arises to address the house his friends ask him to "stand up" or yell "are you standing in a hole?" One day Dennison moved to send one of his bills back to committee and at the end of his motion said the purpose was "for possible study". When bills are returned to committees, the usual procedure for the assemblymen making the motion is to move that it be sent back "for further study and possible amendments". Much good-natured kidding goes on at the sessions and legislators rarely take offense to remarks of their colleagues. House Minority Leader Herbert G. Andrews, during interrogations, usually tells Majority Leader Herbert P. Sort, an Elk county attorney, not to pose "any lawyer's questions".

Local Residents Warned That Time
Situation Has Brought Train
Schedule Changes

Mailing going south and east should be in the local post office not later than 7 p. m., in order to insure its dispatch that evening. Heretofore, this same mail would be able to make trains going in this direction if it was brought into the office by 9 p. m.

There has been no change in westbound mail, but it should be in the office by 9:30 p. m. to insure dispatch that evening.

Mail bound for New York City, which the sender wishes to catch the first delivery there the next morning, should be in the office here by 4 p. m., Postmaster Hanna states.

The commission of the burglary was displayed, a captured effected and a trial held with a subsequent verdict of guilty and sentence meted out.

School Pupils Plan Trip To Pittsburgh

Pupils of ninth grade class of Mahoning school have been conducting a magazine sale campaign for about a week, the amount of which has reached to date $225; the goal has been set for $500.

Formerly, the profits accruing from the sales have been used for a school project. This year permission has been given for the amount to finance a trip for the class to Pittsburgh, where they will visit the plantarium, the museum, and the zoo. Mrs. Christine Pirelli is teacher of the class.

Richard E. Rentz will be the main speaker Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Optimist club in The Castleton hotel at 6:30.

Mr. Rentz will speak on the World Youth Fund campaign, being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. of the nation, and will discuss the local quota of $9,588 which has been set here. An accompanying film, "Invisible Bridges", will be shown.

The meeting will also be attended by members of the city all-star basketball squad, who will appear as guests of the club.

William DeCarbo has been named as delegate from the club to attend the next meeting of the "Small Flies" club, a model airplane group sponsored by the Optimists. Each week a club member acts as supervisor at the hobbyists' session.

County Withdraws
From Bridge Suit

Arbitrators Ask What Compensation Is—Old Law Says $1 Per Day

OTHER NEWS BRIEFS
OF COURT HOUSE

Charging that statements made in the case would be prejudicial to the interests of the county, County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., withdrew from the case of Matthews Leivo Sons Co., against the County of Lawrence on Tuesday morning and the case ended with only the plaintiff's side being presented.

The case is one in which Matthew Leivo Sons Co., ask $8,200 for extra repairs to the West Washington street bridge. The county contends the extras were not extras but were a part of the original contract.

To try the issue the plaintiff took advantage of the law of 1836 which provides for a board of arbitrators. Five were selected with former Judge Charles Matthews acting as referee.

On Tuesday morning Judge Matthews, speaking for the board, said the members would be interested in knowing what compensation would be allowed for their services. The law of 1836 provides compensation at $1 per day. The amendment of 1877 raises this to $2 per day if five hours are worked.

Attorney Alvah H. Shumaker said his clients would accept a rate decided upon and would pay the arbitrators they had selected and would pay half of the referee's stipend, if the county would agree to pay its share and also a share of the costs.

Mr. McElwee said any such agreement might be taken as an indication that the county had agreed to the board of arbitrators which he said would be untrue. He further said the county was in the case before arbitrators by compulsion. Finally he said the offer of the plaintiffs might be prejudicial to the county's interests and that the county would go no farther with the case. He then withdrew.

The plaintiff finished its case and without the defense appearing it was impossible to continue. The arbitrators will meet and decide what action they will take now.

It appears likely that the case is heading for the Court of Common Pleas. No matter what verdict was rendered by the arbitrators, it probably would be appealed to the Court of Common Pleas by the county, there to be tried.

One of the arbitrators suggested that when the $1 per day stipend was put on, chickens were selling sixteen for a dollar, he said he would be glad to take his compensation out in chickens at the scale of 1836.

NEW INTERSTATE LAW

Three new laws concerning estates and wills have been passed by the General Assembly, making some rather radical changes which the Commission on Joint State Government believe necessary.

The new Interstate Law adds to the amount which can be collected by the surviving spouse of a person who dies without leaving a will. Previously, where there was no will and no children, the surviving spouse got the first $5,000 and half the balance of the estate. Under the new law the surviving spouse gets $10,000 and half the balance. If there is more than one child the surviving spouse gets one third of the balance.

The new law limits the persons who can inherit under intestacy. Previously, where a person died intestate, a search was made for heirs and no matter how far out the relationship went, those persons were eligible for a share. A classic example of how far out this could go is seen in the Schaeffer case in Philadelphia where a huge fortune is being adjudicated and thousands of claimants have put in demands, with many countries represented.

Under the new act the farthest out an inheritance can go is a first cousin. After that the state comes in.

East Brook Seniors
Will Present Play

Seniors of East Brook High school are hard at work on the production of a new play, "Hilarity House" which will be given in the High school auditorium on May 9.

The action of the sparkling comedy begins when Jeff Jordan from out of the west suddenly appears on the horizon of his widowed sister-in-law, Isabel Jordan and her two vivacious daughters of high school age, Kathie and Betts.

The rich old bachelor, suffering with heart disease, informs his young niece if they will comply with his antiquated notions and dress, that he would make them heir to his fifty thousand dollars.

The girls readily comply, but during an absence of the old uncle, they take one last fling in the midst of which they are caught.

Enlivening the evening's performance will be the mournful Lucindy Peck, who just adores going to funerals and discussing diseases.

Members of the cast will be announced later.

New Castle High Track Team Defeats Meadville In Dual Meet Here

Local Thinclads Grab Ten Firsts In Easy Victory

Score Is 73 2-3 To 48 1-3 In Final Dual Meet At Stadium Tuesday

GILLESPIE-RICHARDS UNABLE TO COMPETE

New Castle High school track team ended its home schedule for 1947 at the stadium Tuesday by defeating in easy fashion a strong Meadville High track team, 73 2-3 to 48 1-3, grabbing ten firsts along the way. It was the third dual meet at home the Coach Bill Klee thinclads have won, and are undefeated on the local track.

Despite the loss of Jim Gillespie and Phil Richards, two distance stars, the New Castle team looked very good, both Gillespie and Richards have pulled muscles.

Sammy "Ebony Flyer" Keys, the local dash man, had to be content with second place in both the 100 and 220, running just inches back of Vardaro of Meadville in both events, beautiful races each.

Crunkleton Stars

Fred Navarra took the high hurdles for New Castle, with George Capps winning the mile race. Dave Crunkleton running in place of Richards in the 440, won it, with Gene Gribble second. Robey of New Castle took the 200 low hurdles with Sid Lockley winning the half-mile, his specialty, in easy fashion, and Crunkleton placing first in the high jump, winning two of the ten firsts and taking part in the mile relay.

New Castle annexed the mile relay with Lou Gilmore, Smith, Gribble and Crunkleton running, in the time of 3:46.5.

Sweep Broad Jump

Big Al Tate took the discus with a 129.3 feet heave. Dave Copson and Zarilla of New Castle tied for first place in the pole vault at 9 feet 6 inches and Lamorella surprised by taking the broad jump in a leap of 19 feet 6 3-4 inches over Gribble and Gilmore, giving New Castle a sweep in this event.

Meadville first place winners were Vardaro in the 100 and 220, Pyle in the shot put, and Chisholm in the javelin with a 166-foot toss.

Friday the New Castle high track team will go to Washington for an invitational meet. Coach Bill Klee is anxious to grab this one. He hopes to have Gillespie and Richards in shape to run. Meadville did not extend the locals too much yesterday.

120-yard high hurdles—1.72, Navarra, New Castle; Smith, Meadville; Missey, New Castle.

Dodgers Surprise Team In Majors

Defeat Cubs To Remain League Leaders, Cards Lose Again, Pirates Trip Phils

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 30.—If, as baseball's form sheets seem agreed, Brooklyn is the club the Cardinals will have to beat to pick up the option on the National league pennant, there can be no time like the present, or semi-present. Specifically, one week from tomorrow at Ebbets field when they are to open a three-game series with the Brooks.

As matters stood today, the Dodgers were on top of the National league with a won-and-lost of 8 and 2, the Cardinals on the bottom with 2 and 8. The Dodgers won their sixth straight yesterday by taking a 10-6 decision over the Cubs.

Cards Lose Again
The Cardinals lost their sixth straight at the same time, failing to emerge from their hitting slump against the Giants who won, 7-2. It is only two weeks under way, of course, but pennants have been won and lost in less time than that, as National league records will show. As for the American league, it has been pretty much the custom there for champions to take an early lead and stay there—as the Red Sox did last year.

This time, the Sox are away slowly. So much so that they started their swing through the west with another defeat, an 8-3 beating from the Tigers in which Tex Hughson failed to survive the Tiger attack. The remarkable Athletics pulled out another in the ninth for a 4-3 victory over the Indians. Don Black forced the winning run across by walking Ferris Fain with the bases filled in the ninth.

A seven-run eighth inning, featuring doubles by Ed Stanky and Dixie Walker and a homer by Carl Furillo, staked the Dodgers to their 10-7 victory over the Cubs for their sixth straight. Meanwhile, Warren Spahn was moving down the Reds, 4-0, with a four-hitter that moved the Braves into the first division.

A pair of two-run homers by Hank Greenberg and Ralph Kiner in the third wound up the day by giving the Pirates what they needed for a 6-2 verdict over the Phillies.
